Track Data has learned that the security of its computer system was compromised, and as a result, information provided by its customers in relation to trading and other activities was illegally accessed. The data included the addresses, credit card numbers, social security numbers, and trading information of approximately 276 New Hampshire residents.

Track Data is sending the attached notice to all individuals (including New Hampshire residents) it has identified whose personal information may have been accessed. The notices describe, among other things: (1) the general description of the incident resulting in the potential information security breach; (2) the type of personal information that was the subject of the possible security breach; (3) the precautionary measures that Track Data has taken to protect personal information from further unauthorized access; and (4) a toll-free telephone number for inquiries regarding the incident.

DRAFT

Dear []:

We are writing to notify you that the security of our computer system was compromised. As a result, information provided by our customers in relation to trading and other activities was illegally accessed. Information which may have been accessed includes, customer names, addresses, credit card numbers, social security numbers and trading information.

We have reported this matter to the appropriate law enforcement agencies, and have been working with outside consultants to investigate the incident and take further protective measures. We deeply regret and apologize to you for the fact that this situation has occurred, and for any inconvenience or concern it may cause you.

While we are uncertain whether or not your personal information was in fact obtained or has been misappropriated by others, we believe it is important to bring this situation to your attention and advise you of potential steps you may wish to undertake to help protect yourself against possible fraud:

1. Federal law entitles you to annual receipt of one free comprehensive disclosure of all of the information in the credit files maintained by each of the three national credit bureaus. You may request your free credit report once every 12 months by calling (877) FACTACT, or through the internet at <http://www.AnnualCreditReport.com>. If there is inaccurate information in your credit bureau reports, promptly notify the credit bureau to have the data corrected.
2. Carefully monitor your credit statements during the next 12-24 months to make certain there have been no unauthorized transactions or unauthorized new accounts opened in your name. If there is unauthorized activity on any account or if an unauthorized account has been opened in your name, contact the company issuing the account immediately.
3. Contact one of the three major credit bureaus to request that an initial free 90-day fraud alert be added to your file (the other two credit bureaus will be notified automatically). By requesting a 90-day fraud alert, anyone seeking credit in your name must verify their identity. Contact information for each of the three credit bureaus is:

Equifax
(800) 525-6285
P.O. Box 740241
Atlanta, GA 30374-0241
<http://www.equifax.com>

Experian
(888) 397-3742
P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013
<http://www.experian.com>

TransUnion
(800) 680-7289
Fraud Victim Assistance Dept.
P.O. Box 6790
Fullerton, CA 92834-6790
<http://www.transunion.com>

Should you notice any suspicious, unusual, or unauthorized activity, steps you may wish to take include:

1. Notifying the fraud department of any one of the major credit bureaus listed above.
2. Filing a report with the Federal Trade Commission by using the FTC's Identity Theft Hotline at: 1-877-438-4338, online at www.consumer.gov/idtheft, or by mail to Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington DC 20580.
3. Closing any accounts that have been tampered with or opened fraudulently.
4. Initiating a security freeze. A security freeze means that your credit file cannot be shared with potential creditors. If your credit files are frozen, even someone who has your name and Social Security number should not be able to get credit in your name (no Social Security numbers were in the files that were inadvertently disclosed by our former employee). A security freeze is free to those who have a police report of identity theft. If you don't have a police report, it costs $10 to place a freeze with each credit bureau, for a total of $30. The credit bureaus require that a freeze request be made in writing (by certified mail).

Sincerely,
